GLAMOROUS ART SERVICE

MEHANDI

Traditional Hindu weddings in India can often be long, ritualistic, and elaborate affairs with many pre-wedding, and post-wedding ceremonies. Different countries and regions of a country celebrate the ceremonies in different ways according to their own marriage customs, rituals, and culture. According to Hindu tradition, the ceremony is mainly held at the bride's house or at a banquet hall on the eve of the marriage ceremony or a few days before the marriage. Generally, the bride and groom attend the event together, and on the occasion, a professional mehandi artist or a relative applies mehandi to the bride's hands and feet. The designs are very intricate, often hidden within the mehandi pattern. The name or initials of the groom are applied. The event generally has a celebratory festival feel to it, with the women dancing and singing traditional songs, and the girls wearing vivid colors such as hot pink and yellow. Often, if the bride wishes to tease her future groom, she will make him wear purple. The groom usually wears jutti instead of western footwear.

A bartender (also known as a barkeep, barman, barmaid) is a person who formulates and serves alcoholic or soft drink beverages behind the bar, usually in a licensed establishment. Bartenders also usually maintain the supplies and inventory for the bar. A bartender can generally mix classic cocktails such as a Cosmopolitan, Manhattan, Old Fashioned, and Mojito. Essentially, a bartender is any person who prepares or serves alcoholic (and some non-alcoholic beverages) from behind a bar.

A non-alcoholic mixed drink is a cocktail-style beverage made without alcoholic ingredients. Cocktails rose in popularity during the 1980s, and became increasingly popular in the 2000s. The use of cocktails has proliferated deep into the drinking culture.
